New language version for CAMPUS online datasheets

The internationally leading information system for high quality plastics data has been extended by a Portuguese language version of all online datasheets.

CAMPUS is the only neutral plastics information system managed and driven by the resin producers. All CAMPUS datasheets are available for free at:

www.CAMPUSplastics.com.

CAMPUS datasheets include all relevant data for the selection of plastics, including valuable multipoint graphs, chemical resistance information, long term properties and many more.

In order to serve the international plastics market, CAMPUS is available in different language versions. From now on, CAMPUS datasheets are also available in Portuguese language.

CAMPUS is a joint project of the Chemical Industry, M-Base Engineering + Software GmbH in Aachen is responsible for software development and hosting.
